ARTISTS STATEMENT

Have you noticed how amazing life and the universe is? Have you seen rolling waves, drifting clouds, light, a growing plant, water freezing, books, stars...? Well I have, and these aspects of existence ignite curious questions in my mind that I seek to answer through my artistic practice.

Ellenor Rose Nish is an Australian artist and founder of Studio Mokii with a practice laying between art and science. Even though the world is in chaos, a viewer of Ellenor's art may find a moment of quietness, calmness and curiosity. The materials that have made her works include shadows, paper, plants, glass, water, salt, flour, clouds, shapes, words, air currents and scientific phenomena. In the future her art will simply continue.
